Apex & Oasis Clearwater

Apex Environmental and Oasis Clearwater have partnered together to provide a solution for commercial onsite wastewater requirements.

Utilising our joint expertise, experience and technology we have the ability to design and build treatment systems to suit your specific needs. We back this up with a performance guarantee for your peace of mind.

About Oasis Clearwater

Oasis Clearwater Environmental Systems is a New Zealand-owned onsite wastewater company with a history dating back over 25 years. Being part of Humes, which is part of the Fletcher Building Group, it combines many years of expertise in both design and industry leading innovative technology. Oasis Clearwater has developed quality treatment plants to meet both commercial and domestic standards, as seen in Oasis Clearwater standings in the OSET tests.

About Apex Environmental

Apex Environmental are engineers who specialise in the design, build, installation and commissioning of wastewater treatment systems. Founded in 2009, the company provides its services nationwide to the industrial and, increasingly, municipal sectors. Currently part of the Citycare Group, Apex and Citycare Group work closely together, with Apex providing technical advice to Citycare Group and its clients. In turn, Citycare Group provides civil construction management and labour inputs to Apex projects.
